ARTIST ONE-SHEET

Pongo Face

Pongo Face makes groove records for people who grew up on Weather Report and still own a Stevie Wonder album. Electronic, fusion and rock out of New York, one man playing like a band.

Most of it is instrumental. Out There runs twelve tracks of jazz-fusion. The Music stacks guitars and effects into instrumental rock. The Giver, the newest single, came out in 2025. Every sound is built by hand and bent until it belongs to the band.

Six releases since 2010. Next up is Original Dream, a full-band record with vocals.

If your record collection jumps from Weather Report to Stevie Wonder, start here.
